Toledo Rotary Club Foundation Grant Recipient: SSFAC

The Toledo Rotary Club Foundation recently awarded a grant in the amount of $10,000 to the Social Services for the Arab Community (SSFAC). The grant was used to fund the SSFAC Family Education Plan (FEP) Program, which helps to improve academic performance among Arab immigrant and refugee school-aged students, and to improve the English language proficiency of their parents.

The FEP program took place on Tuesday's and Thursday's of every week for an hour and a half for each session. The program consisted of two components: Adult English Communication (AEC), with two classes for beginners and intermediate learners, and Student Homework Help (SHH).

Along with the staff of SSFAC, the program was possible by the help of about 50 volunteers with over 1,000 hours in volunteer work.

The FEP Program provided help to 25 adults in both the beginner and the intermediate sessions of the AEC component. The measurable results were:

- Adults gained more than 100 new words in English = 95%
- Adults were able to conjugate more than 40 verbs = 85%
- Arab adults forming friendships with non-Arabs = 80%
- Arab adults who are able to help with their children's homework = 40%

The FEP Program also provided help to 35 school-aged children to enhance their academic performance. The measurable results were:

- Students achieving a higher GPA = 85%
- Students changing their school's subjects' grade by one letter grade = 85%
- Students able to work unassisted on their homework two nights per week = 70%

Due to language, cultural and social barriers, Arab immigrant & refugee families often experience isolation in the greater community.

One of SSFAC's highest goals and greatest privileges is linking the local Arab immigrant & refugee community in relationships with the local Non-Arab community of Greater Toledo. These relationships foster goodwill, break stereotypes, bring greater awareness to all participants and practical help for their clients and their families.

WELCOME NEW MEMBER: Joe Conda!

Joe retired after 47 years of dedicated service to the pharmaceutical industry. He began his pharmaceutical career in 1969 when he joined Brockway Glass Inc., in Brockway, PA, as a drugstore detail person selling prescription packaging. In 1988, Brockway was acquired by Owens-Illinois and in 2007, the company was acquired by Rexam, Inc. Transitioning with the company throughout the acquisitions, Joe served in a series of increasing leadership and management assignments and responsibilities, which eventually led him to being named President of Owens-Illinois HealthCare Packaging.

Joe was instrumental in the selling of Owens-Illinois HealthCare Packaging to Rexam, LLC, at which time he retired from Owens-Illinois to join Rexam as a consultant. Following his exit from Rexam, Joe left the manufacturing side of the industry in 2010 to join wholesaler/distributor H. D. Smith, headquartered in Springfield, Illinois.

Over the course of the next seven years with H. D. Smith, Joe served as Senior Vice President/ Strategic Plan and Business Development, President of H.D. Smith Specialty Solutions; and Executive Vice President, Office of the Chairman. In his various positions, he helped create H. D. Smith's specialty solutions --- leading and integrating the subsidiaries Triplefin, Smith Medical Partners, CompleteCare Pharmacy and PSAO Third Party Network --- and most recently, he helped create Arete Pharmacy Network. Joe led strategic planning and mergers and acquisition activities from the time he joined H. D. Smith in January, 2010 until his retirement in May, 2016.

Among his many industry awards, the two he considers as his most outstanding are the 1998 Healthcare Distribution Management Association Nexus Award (then known as the Tim Barry Award) and the 2010 National Chain Drug Store Association Harold Pratt Award. Both of these awards are presented for lifetime achievement in the healthcare industry. Joe is only one of four awardees to have ever been honored with both awards. A graduate of Rutgers University, Joe earned a Bachelor's degree in business administration and marketing. He also has a completed graduate level work in finance at the Darden School of Business Administration at the University of Virginia.

Outside of the industry, among his many contributions to the community, Joe served on the Board of Advisors for the University of Toledo College of Pharmacy, the Xavier University College of Pharmacy in Louisiana, and the Bowling Green State University Foundation Board (chairing its Investment Committee). He also served as Chairman of the Hospice of Northwest Ohio Board of Trustees. He is currently on the Board of Counselors for the University of Findlay and is active as an advisor and industry collaborator for their College of Pharmacy and the College of Animal Science.

When asked future plans, Joe said, "after serving on several non-profit boards, my intent is to reinvent myself one more time, focusing more intently on service to the community". He will continue to serve on pharmacy school advisory Boards, coaching and mentoring pharmacy students from the business vantage point, as well as the BGSU College of Business students.

Joe, his wife Judith and daughter, Susan, now reside in Perrysburg, OH.

Past Program: January 8, 2018

Dr. Amjad Hussain

The Silk Road

Dr. Amjad Hussain spoke about his expedition along the ancient Silk Road, or “roads”, that connect China’s Shanghai, in the east, to Kashgar in the west. In April and May, Dr. Hussain traveled the route with a group of 8 to explore the roads that “spread knowledge, religions, and diseases across vast expanses of Asia and Europe”. Even though the routes, that used to be traveled by camel-riding caravans, are now asphalt and superhighways, their history is still all around. He told members on Monday that the Chinese were able to keep methods of silk manufacturing secret for nearly 1,600 years, until monks hid the silkworm eggs in hollowed out staffs and smuggled them to Byzantine. Silk, copper, paper, spices, gun powder, war paraphernalia, weapons technology, art and domesticated horses were transported on The Silk Road. Just like fabrics and commodities, music, culture and religion traveled the route. Islam, Christianity and Buddhism came to China via The Silk Road. Dr. Amjad Hussain said “it is history—we are connected in the present with our past, and many things which we see every day are connected with The Silk Road”.
