BEN BARROS, LAW DAY

D. Benjamin Barros joined the University of Toledo, College of Law as Dean in July 2015. He teaches and writes in the areas of Property Law and Theory, Regulatory Takings, Property Law Reform, and the Philosophy of Science. He is the founding editor of the Journal of Law, Property, and Society, and in 2015, he released a casebook on property law with Aspen/Wolters Kluwer. Dean Barros was one of the youngest educators to serve on the executive committee of the Association of American Law Schools (AALS) and has served as chair of the AALS Property Section as well as president of the Association for Law, Property, and Society. Previously the associate dean of academic affairs and professor of law at Widener University School of Law in Harrisburg, Pa., Dean Barros practiced as a litigator before teaching. Immediately after graduating from law school, Barros clerked for Judge Milton Pollack of the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York. He then worked at the law firms of Latham & Watkins LLP and Debevoise & Plimpton, both in New York City.

Mark Poloncarz, Univ. Toledo Law School Alum and the current Erie County Executive shared how Buffalo has been rebuilt and how it translates to Toledo. By throwing out the book on economic development and trying new things Buffalo is thriving. Buffalo and Erie County has moved from Blue Collar to 12 different economic sectors. Focusing on creating opportunities has helped the process of revitalization.

Areas of focus include:

Sustainability
Connecting Communities
Tax Incentives
Arts and Entertainment

Prepared Land
Workforce Development
Finance/ International Trade

MARK POLONCARZ

BUILDING UP BUFFALO,
AND HOW THAT TRANSLATES TO TOLEDO

In Mark's estimation, Toledo is moving in the right direction and is roughly 8-10 years behind Buffalo in this transformation.
